Most wineries are returning for their second year, and some are new, like Hermann J. Wiemer, Sheldrake Point and Point of the Bluff.

“This is a delightful upcoming event we wouldn’t miss. It has all the right elements; great attendance, wineries are treated very well, great community turnout and it benefits Rotary projects. Now that it is on Keuka’s waterfront at the Hampton Inn, it’s going to be even more fun,” said Judy Wiltberger of Keuka Springs.

Hosted in conjunction with the Yates County Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary event will run from 2pm to 7pm with music by Artistic License on the tented patio facing beautiful Keuka Lake. Advance tickets are $30 and can be purchased at Lyons National Bank, Community Bank and online www.FingerLakesWineClassic.com. Tickets will be $35 at the event. As a fundraiser, Rotary will be pouring wine by the glass from participating wineries so tasters can get a better idea of preferences. Bottle sales available from wineries.

And for the full weekend, don’t miss the no charge Friday night kickoff at the Hampton Inn under the tent 5-9pm with music by Top Shelf, thanks to our stage sponsor, Welliver Construction. Food and drinks will be available for purchase. An info-packed History Hike will also be on the Outlet Trail Sat. 10-noon.

Proceeds from the event will support Penn Yan Rotary projects.
